

After you have purchased your membership and uploaded all documents, you will receive a welcome email from the provincial office. To enter rodeos, you will need to create your profile in EQuest Events.

This system is built on the same platform as our membership system, so once you create your profile you can link it to your NHSRA profile. Before you begin, make sure you have your NHSRA username and password, you will need it to link the accounts.

1. Create your EQuest Event profile. On the AHSRA homepage, click Entry Login. (Use the same username as your membership profile)

When the system recognizes your login, it will give a message that authentication is complete. Then it will open your EQuest Event Account Portal.

Take some time to become familiar with EQuest Event. You will see any rodeos that are open for you to enter. Make sure to find your EQE# - anyone entering Team Roping or Ribbon Roping will need to know the EQE# of your partner. Please be sure to share this with your partner before entries open. Both partners need to enter. It will make your life simpler, and once you have added them as a partner, the system will remember them.
